Third Year.—Exercises from Concone and Panofski; Selections from Handel's Joshua, Haydn's Creation; Sullivan's Rossini and others.

SCHOOL OF ART.

It is earnestly desired that the students take the regular course, but for those who for lack of time or means cannot pursue the regular course, there has been arranged a Special or Decorative course. This department embraces Drawing—with pencil, Charcoal or Crayon, Photo-Crayon, and Pen-and-Ink; Painting—Oil, Water Color, China, Tapestry and Pastel.

The China kiln is quite a success, and is a great addition to the department.

A free hand-drawing class is open to all students in the college, and may be pursued with advantage.

THE REGULAR ART COURSE.

This course requires that the student shall work from Still-life, Cast, Nature and Life.

The completion of the course depends on the ability and application of the student. No student can pass from one grade into another without having executed satisfactorily test pieces of work.

A Certificate in the School of Art will be awarded those students who meet the requirements of the regular course, having passed examination on the Principles of Perspective and History of Art.

CERTIFICATE COURSE.

JUNIOR.

Drawing.—Single and Group Geometrical solids, vases, simple groups of Still-life and Fruits.

In the Cast Department, foliage, flowers, fruits, separate features of the face and animal heads.

SENIOR.

Drawing.—In the Cast Department, hands and feet, the study of masques. More advanced groups from Still-life and Nature. In spring and fall out-door sketching from nature.

Painting.—In Oil from Still-life, Fruits, Flowers, etc. Water Color may be used if desired.

ADVANCED COURSE.

Drawing.—Including heads and busts from the best antique and modern sculptors. Sketching in the Life class and out-door sketching continued.

Painting.—More advanced Still-life, and Nature Studies in Oil and Water Colors.

This entire course is from time to time varied by copying landscapes, animals, and human heads and figures after the best artists.

OPTIONAL STUDIES.

Music, Drawing, Painting, Ancient and Modern Languages, Elocution, Book-keeping, Typewriting and Stenography, for which extra charges will be made, are taught in such a way as not to impede the progress of the pupil in her regular studies. No pupil is allowed to commence one of these branches, or having commenced to discontinue it, without the permission of the President, given at the request of the parent or guardian.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

The importance of physical exercise is deeply felt. Calisthenics and light gymnastics with wands, rings, dumb-bells and Indian clubs, form part of the daily routine of the school. It has been shown by experience that a mild form of gymnastics is better suited to develop beauty and symmetry of figure and grace of movement than any amount of vigorous training. This is required of boarders, unless physically unable. Out-door exercise is required of pupils every day when the weather is favorable.

We have a campus of twelve acres that furnishes excellent tennis courts, croquet ground, bicycle runs, etc. Large forests are accessible, and in these our girls find great pleasure in rambling, hunting wild flowers in the spring, and gathering nuts in autumn.

General Information.

The College guarantees to graduate no one. Graduation depends solely upon the class standing and passing examinations. Diplomas will be given only to those who take the full english course and one Ancient or Modern Language. An average of 75 per cent. must be made on every subject, and all students who fail to secure this average must review the study and stand another examination within a month from the regular examination. The day has come when English is taken as a test and measure of cultivation. Realizing this, we give more time to the study of it than heretofore. Grammar and Rhetoric are taught throughout the entire College course. Special attention is given to Composition, and in the Freshman and Sophomore classes much of this work is required to be done under the eye of the teacher in the class room. In mathematics, thoroughness, accuracy and a complete mastery of the subject are sought. Arithmetic, the foundation of all mathematics, is kept up during the entire course. Pupils are required to do their own thinking, and to explain fully their own work.

EXAMINATIONS AND REPORTS.

Examinations take place on the completion of each study, and at the close of each half session, but there are weekly reviews on the recitations of the week. A daily record of each pupil's scholarship and deportment is kept, and the average of these, with the examinations, determines her standing in her class. A report is sent to the parent or guardian at the close of each quarter. This report includes a general statement of deportment and a record of absences from recitations, church, Sunday-school, etc.

SECTION OF READING ROOM.

MEDALS.

Medals are offered for excellence in music, Art, Elocution, Latin and chart making.

ALUMNÆ ASSOCIATION.

In 1896 an Alumnæ Association was formed for the purpose of sustaining the relationship between the Graduates and their Alma Mater. The membership now numbers 115, among whom are some of the most prominent and influential women in the State.

The Annual Alumæ Concert and Banquet are among the notable features of the Commencement week.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The Sea Gift and Neithean Literary Societies are voluntary organizations for literary improvement. These societies are important auxiliaries in the cultivation of taste and manners, and afford rare opportunity for improvement in elocution, composition and conversation. Under the control of these societies is the

READING ROOM.

It is large, comfortable and neatly furnished. It is well supplied with weekly and daily newspapers and magazines, such as North Carolina Advocate, Christian Herald, Sunday School Times, News and Observer, Post, New York World, Youth's Companion, Review of Reviews, The Bookman, Current Literature, Woman's Home Companion, Musey, Ladies' Home Journal, and many other literary and religious papers and magazines. It is open from 3 to 6 o'clock for general use. Each young lady is required to spend a portion of time each day in reading such papers and magazines as will keep her posted on the current events of the day. In connection with the reading-room is the library of over one thousand volumes of select books, to which the young ladies have access every day, except Sunday. The reading-room is under the constant care of a salaried librarian, and is open to all students. A small fee of one dollar per session is charged all students not belonging to the literary societies. This fund does not go into the College treasury, but is at once expended for the reading-room.

THE SITTING-ROOM.

Adjoining the reading-room is the family sitting-room. Each young lady is expected to feel at home here at all times. We aim at the highest moral, mental and physical culture of our pupils. To this end the Lady Principal embraces every opportunity for counsel and encouragement, and constantly endeavors to surround the inmates of the College with the atmosphere of a cheerful, well regulated family.

INFIRMARY.

While the health of our pupils is exceptional, still for the proper care of any who might be sick, a large, airy and cheerful room is set apart for an infirmary. It is under the supervision of a lady of refinement and experience in attending the sick. All who are not well enough to attend to their school duties are required to remain under her care until they are restored to their usual health. Meals will not be served in the sleeping-rooms, but will be sent to the infirmary for all those who are not able to go to the table. For which service a small fee will be charged.

We employ no College Physician, but the leading physicians of the town are subject to our call at any hour, day or night, by telephone.

RELIGIOUS ADVANTAGES.

The young ladies are required to attend Sunday-school and church at least once every Sunday. Although the exercises of the school are opened with Bible reading, singing and prayer, the pupils felt the need of some Christian organization conducted wholly by themselves. In December, '97, they organized a branch of the Y. W. C. A., with fifty charter members. There is no department of school life in which the influence of this association has not been felt. Just at twilight every day the students assemble in the Y. W. C. A. room, and hold a fifteen-minutes prayer-meeting, always led by one of the members.

Under the direction of the society, there will be a regular course of Bible lessons, which are to be studied as any other recitation. The President will give weekly lectures on the subjects under consideration. The value of this spiritual training cannot be over-estimated. Not only does it help students to perform their school duties more faithfully, but its tendency is to prepare them for the responsibilities of after-life, when they will no longer be under home restrictions or college rules. The Society Hall in which all their meetings are held has just been newly furnished.

GOVERNMENT.

The mere acquisition of knowledge, however varied and extensive, cannot, in its true sense, be called education. Recognizing this fact, the faculty has been selected with reference not only to scholarship, but to general moral and religious culture as well. The design of the President is to surround the pupils, while under his care, with such influences as tend to cultivate taste, refine and polish manners, develop and strengthen the moral sense, and fit them to occupy with ease and grace every department of social and domestic life. Whether in sickness or health, they will receive every attention which they could have were they at their homes. They are members of a large family, and we strive to make them happy while they are at school. Our discipline is mild but firm. We do not strive to govern our pupils by a set of iron-clad rules. We begin with a few leading principles of behavior and morals, and strive to develop a true sense of personal responsibility in all students. They are trusted as person of honor and character, and not as mere children. While this general principle governs us, the fact is recognized that numerous restraints must be thrown around young people for their protection. They will not be allowed to correspond with or receive attention from young gentlemen. When leaving the campus they will be attended by one of the teachers, and under no circumstances will they be allowed to spend a night out of the college. This is necessary in order to guard them against objectionable influences and unworthy acquaintances. Requests from parents or guardians must be made to the Lady Principal. No calls must be made during school hours. No visiting allowed on the Sabbath.

UNIFORM DESS.

All arrangements of the College are made with reference to economy on the part of the pupil. For convenience as well as economy, uniform suits have been prescribed: For winter—black coat suits, and College uniform Oxford cap; for summer—white duck or pique, and white straw sailor hats. White lawns are worn on the stage at Commencement. Parents are requested not to allow the purchase of "evening dresses;" they are an unnecessary expense. Suits of dark blue flannel, with white braid trimmings, will be required in the physical culture exercises. These suits must be made by the direction of the teacher in this department. Every article of clothing should be distinctly marked with indelible ink. Boarding pupils must provide themselves with an umbrella, a waterproof cloak and a pair of overshoes, and furnish their own sheets, pillow-slips, table napkins, towels and counterpanes.

TO PATRONS.

Please grant us your aid in the maintenance of the standard of work we shall uphold. Do not ask for special privileges in behalf of your daughters. Our views and regulations are dictated by experience and judgment.

A CORNER OF CAMPUS.

Pupils are given regular class work until the Friday before Commencement. Any examination omitted must be made up before the pupil passes to the next grade. It is a matter of first importance that each pupil be present on the opening day of school, and attend to all duties promptly and regularly, until the last day.

All sanitary arrangements of the buildings are so made as to promote the health and comfort of the pupils. The table is constantly supplied with the best of food—wholesome, well-cooked, and in abundance. Every attention necessary to the welfare of the school is given. When boarders enter the College they are received as members of our own family, and guarded with parental care from all evil influences. They are required to keep their rooms neat and in order.

Hours of study, rest and recreation are arranged with reference to their physical as well as intellectual development. If any of the young ladies should become sick, the very best medical attention will be called in, if necessary, and their parents will be promptly notified of their condition every day.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Academic	$12 00
Primary	10 00
Kindergarten.....	5 00

The members in this school are constantly increasing, and our facilities for successful work are being steadily improved.

Special rates will be made to pupils desiring a double course in music. They have the option of giving one-half the time to instrumental and one-half to vocal at the charge of one.

Daughters of ministers engaged in regular work will be given free tuition in all branches.

In order to place the advantages of the school within the reach of the largest number of persons, we have fixed the price of board at the lowest possible figure. No margin has been allowed for deduction or losses. We offer special advantages for two from the same family.

TERMS OF PAYMENT.

One-half in advance, balance at the end of first half-session. Payments may be made monthly by previous agreement, but at the beginning of the month. Pupils entering within the first two weeks will be charged from the first day of the session. No deduction made for holidays or for absence for a fractional part of a month. A small sum must be deposited with the Treasurer to pay for books and stationery. Books and sheet music are kept on sale, and are furnished young ladies at very low rates. Boarding pupils will not be allowed to open accounts in town.

All express packages should be sent prepaid, and all letters and packages sent to young ladies boarding in the College should have "L. F. C." distinctly written on one corner. This will insure prompt delivery.

Parents and guardians are earnestly requested to study the above schedule carefully, and to select the studies they wish their daughters or wards to pursue. They can see what the expenses per session will be. No honor of the College will be awarded to a student until her term bills have been settled.
